NEWSLETTER

Manager's Message

On behalf of the Chartiers Township Board of Supervisors, we hope you enjoy the Spring edition of the award winning, Chartiers Township Newsletter. Our Fall 2015 edition took third place for the most improved newsletter for the Pennsylvania State Association of Township Supervisors and we will strive to continue to improve it with each edition. We'd like to encourage residents to become familiar with some of the recreational opportunities being offered in the Township. In addition to Allison Parkette and Arnold Park, the Chartiers Township Community Center has regular recreational opportunities for our residents. There are a variety of sessions, including community programs, educational sessions, senior programs and even fitness classes. We have some wonderful opportunities coming up this Spring and Summer for the children in the community as well. Please consider joining your friends and neighbors for one of the many recreational offerings contained in this newsletter. We all can enjoy the resources available to us right here in Chartiers Township! Sign up for the class or program of your choice today!

Jodi L. Noble, Township Manager

A Message From the Chief of Police

The arrival of spring and warmer weather provides homeowners with the opportunity to make repairs and changes to their house or property. While some people will choose to do the work themselves and save money, others might hire a handyman or contractor to do the work for them. Some, such as the elderly, may not have the luxury of choice and will do the latter.

Chartiers Township Police Department would like to warn everyone that warm weather activities such as painting, roofing and driveway sealing also brings out criminals who take advantage of people. Senior citizens often become targets for these types of crimes, however, anyone can become a victim if you don't think first and use good judgment.

A couple of the most common home repair frauds are driveway sealing and painting frauds.

In a driveway sealing scam, the homeowner is approached at the home and told that a nearby driveway repair job was just completed and that because there is material remaining, the homeowner has an opportunity to take advantage and save money - if the work is performed immediately. Be careful because once the job is done, the homeowner is often told that the cost is more than expected. In addition, the material used may be substandard and will wash off with the next rain.

Painting and other home repair frauds are similar. The homeowner may be overcharged and/or the quality of the work is poor as well as the quality of the material being used.

Sometimes, a ruse burglary is the real purpose of an unsolicited visit. A ruse burglary is when the offender may pose as a public utility employee, a roofer, or other service provider and claim they need access to the victim's residence or back yard to inspect their water, gas or cable components, recent work done, work that needs to be done, etc. The offender then directs the victim to an area of the residence away from where valuables may be stored, or to come outside of their residence to look at something in their yard while an accomplice enters the home.

Here are some easy ways to keep from becoming a victim.

Get several estimates and compare. Ask if there is a charge for an estimate, check out contractors with the Better Business Bureau and State, Ask for references and call them. Ask your friends for recommendations, be leery of high-pressure sales tactics or someone who "happens to be in the area", pay by check so that you can stop payment if dissatisfied, get a guarantee on the work, never sign a work of completion unless all work is done to your satisfaction.

DO NOT allow strangers to come into your home or to distract you away from your unlocked front door.

If someone comes to your door unsolicited and you feel uncomfortable, PLEASE excuse yourself, lock your door, and call 911. Let our Officers check this person out for you it's our job and you may just stop your neighbor from becoming a Victim.

I would also like to remind everyone to please be mindful of your speed when traveling through the Township. This is the time of year when the outdoor activities begin and many children and adults as well are out walking and riding on the streets

Chief James Horvath

The end of 2015 brought an end to an era.

Chartiers Township receptionist and Township Secretary Wendy Williams retired after 44 years on the job.

In that time Wendy saw many changes from sharing a “desk” with other employees to new housing developments and the growth Chartiers Township.

Wendy was recognized by the Township Board of Supervisors for her service during her final Township meeting in December. She was presented with gifts from the supervisors and staff. She promises to still be around and involved in various volunteer endeavors but promises you won't hear her voice anymore when calling the Township offices.

Congratulations Wendy!

The Township Board of Supervisors also welcomed new Supervisor Glenn Alterio who won November's election and will replace outgoing Supervisor Richard Metzler who did not seek reelection. Supervisor Alterio will serve as Vice Chairman of the Board.

Help Reduce Storm Water Runoff

Dealing with storm water is becoming more and more of an issue across the State, including right here in Chartiers Township. Storm water can cause flooding and can contaminate our waterways that are eventually used to collect our drinking water. You can help avoid some of these problems by reducing impervious areas (hard surfaces like roofs, paved areas) and preventing runoff from these surfaces so that rain soaks into the ground. Planting trees, plants and other vegetation can help storm water infiltrate the ground and increase evaporation. Rain gardens, rain barrels, and similar practices can also reduce runoff. By doing some small things, you can have a big impact on improving storm water management and water quality in our community.
